Chemically, the apple is composed of chemically, the apple is composed of vegetable fibre, albumen, sugar, gum, chlorophyil, malic acid, gallic acid, lime, and much water. Furthermore, the German analysis say that the apple contains a larger percentage of phosphorus than any other fruit or vegetable. This phosphorus is admirably adapted for renewing the essential nervous matter, ethicin, of the brain and spinal chord. It is, perhaps, for the same reason, rudely nuderstood, that old Scandinavian traditions represent the apple as the food of the gods, who, when they felt themselves to be growing feeble and infirm, resorted to this fruit for renewing their powers of mind and body. Also, the acids of the apple are of signal use for men of sedentary habits, whose livers are sluggish in action; these acids serving sish in action; these acids serving sish in action; these acids serving which, if retained, would make the brain heavy and dull, or bring about jaundice or skin cruptions and other allied troubles.

Some such an experience must have led to our custom of taking apple sauce with reast pork, rich goose, and like dishes. The malie acid of ripe apples, either raw or cooked, will neutralize any excess of chalky matter engendered by eating too much meat. It is also the fact that such fresh fruits as the apple, the pear, and the plum, when taken ripe fact that such fresh fruits as the apple, the pear, and the plum, when taken ripe and without sugar, diminish acidity in the stomach rather than provoke it. Their vegetable salts and juices are converted into alkaline carbonates, which tend to counteract acidity.

A good ripe, raw apple is one of the casiest of vegetable substances for the stomach to deal with, the whole process of its digestion being completed in eighty-five minutes.

A poultice made of rotten apples is of A poultice made of rotten apples is of very common use in Lincolushire for the cure of weak and rheumatic eyes. Likewise in the Hotel des Invalides, at Paris, an apple poultie is used commonly for inflamed eyes, the apple being rassted and its pulp applied over the eye without any intervening substance. Long ago it was said that apples do easily and speedily pass through the belly; and for the same reason, a modern maxim teaches that: To eat an apple going to bed, the doctor then will beg his bread, Justiy Rebuked.

A few days since a young dude born some years after the war, was complaining in the office of Mr. Smith Fry, one of the brightest of the Washington correspondents, that an old soldier was standing in his way for office, and finally exclaimed, "Will they never die?" Then Mr. Fry turned on him with the following.

"Young man, half a million of them "Young man, half a million of them died while you were in your cradle. Ten thousand of them died inside of ten minutes, in the morning of June 3, 1864, in front of Cold Harbor, when the Army of the Potomae made an assault all along the line. Many thousands of them died in prison or in rebel hospitals, naked, hungry, suffering and unloved. Many thousands of them to-day hobble on crutches, or fiap empty sleves in the breezes. They are dying fast enough. Half a million of them still live, but every one of them bears in his body the mark of battle or the germ of disease contracted while campaigning in order that this government pight not fade from the earth. But for them there would be no government for you to serve, nor to protect you. Don't be in a hurry. These old veterans are matching off the field brigade by brigade every year. Regiment after regiment is disappearing over the recomment. Don't be in a hurry. These our verenas are marching off the field brigade by brigade every year. Regiment after regiment is disappearing over the brow of the hill of time. They are marching away into the valley of the shadow, right into the river of death, bravely as the Old Guard of Waterloo. Don't be in a hurry, young man, these old soldiers are marching off of the field, and they will soon be out of our way. While they are here the Republican party will give them the preference."

Massachusetts, baving granted itself Massachusetts, having granted itself ballot reform, is now trying to give itself municipal suffrage for women. The State of Kansas and the Territory of Wyoming and all the Canadian provinces except Quebec have already legalized this right, and in this they are shead of the generally progressive Eastern and Middle States. As women who own property have to pay municipal taxes on it, just as men owners do, their exclusion from the exercise of the suffrage for purposes of local government is as unjust as it would be to disfranchise women shareholders of the New York Central Railroad or the Chemical Bank. New York might well run a race with Massachu-setts to see which will be just to women taxpayers first. Transfers of Real Estate Two deeds of trust and the following conveyances of real estate were admitted to record in Clerk Hook's office yester

McVAY'S PAINE CURE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS. Is a Sale, Pleasant and Reliable Preparation

Thrift is a 4 good revenue results from SAPOLIO: cleanliness and solid cake of scouring scap. Try it in your next house-cleaning and be happy.

Looking out over the many homes of this country, we see thousands of women wearing away their lives in household drudgery that might be materially lessened by the use of a few cakes of SAPOLIO. If an hour is saved each time a cake is used, if one less wrinkle gathers upon the face because the toil is lightened, she must be a foolish woman who would hesitate to make the experiment, and he a churlish husband who would grudge the few cents which it costs.
